A PERSONAL WORD FROM
CO-FOUNDER & PRESIDENT

Rob Hoskins

Dear Friend,

What an extraordinary year 2025 was. You were instrumental in sharing God's Word with more than 153.5 million children and youth around the world, including many living in places where following Jesus comes at great cost.

The theme of this Annual Report, Unwavering Hope, reflects what you make possible. In a world marked by uncertainty, you anchor young hearts in the unshakable truth of Scripture. Through local churches and ministry partners, children and youth are encountering the love of Jesus, choosing to follow Him, and carrying that light into their families and communities.

Your generosity is doing more than transforming lives today; it's shaping future generations. With every child and youth reached, you are building a foundation that will stand for years to come.

Together, we are advancing Vision 2033 by pressing forward toward the goal of reaching every child and youth with God's Word and equipping the next generation of believers and leaders around the world.

My prayer is that as you read this report, you experience deep joy and renewed purpose. Thank you for standing with us, unwavering in hope and faithful to God's calling.

State of the Youth

More than 40% of the world's population is now under the age of 25, and that number continues to grow. This is not a distant challenge. This is a God-appointed moment.

You are living in the most influential moment in human history for reaching children and youth with the eternal hope of Jesus Christ.

More than 40% of the world's population is now under the age of 25, and that number continues to grow. This is not a distant challenge. This is a God-appointed moment.

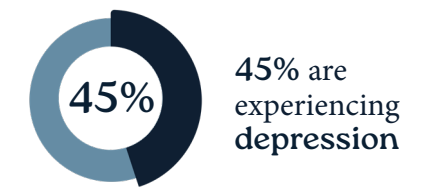

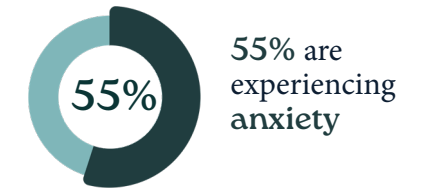

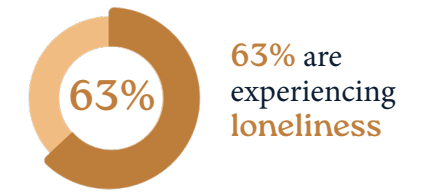

OneHope's Gen Alpha research reveals that the vast majority of Gen Alpha and Gen Z say faith and spirituality are important to their identity. At the same time, these generations are more digitally immersed than any before them. With a device in their hands, young people can access more information in seconds than previous generations could gather in a lifetime.

Yet, in a world full of voices, opinions, and misinformation, many children and youth are unable to find truth, meaning, and identity. They are growing up in a culture of constant change, rising anxiety, and spiritual confusion—asking questions that entertainment, education, and social media simply cannot answer.

Because of faithful partners like you, churches and ministries around the world are placing God's Word directly into the hands and hearts of the next generation. You are not simply responding to a need — you are igniting a movement that will shape the future.

You are bringing unwavering hope to every generation.

OneHope's Global Youth Culture research of Gen Z shows:

The answer the next generation is searching for has not changed: God's Word remains the firm foundation they need. In the midst of global uncertainty, Scripture offers something no other source can provide: unshakable truth.

Poko's Story

Hope That Endures

Poko was a teenage girl who grew up in a village torn by tribal conflict. Two different tribes had been battling for control for decades. Poko's father was one of the chiefs who believed the gods had appointed his tribe to rule this rural community in Togo. He and another powerful would-be king were locked in a bitter, dangerous struggle that divided the village.

Poko's world was shaped by fear, conflict, and the silent, spiritual darkness of idol worship. "My family was divided. I felt like I was living without purpose," she remembers.

Through your partnership, The GodMan film was brought into Poko's village. The animosity among villagers was so strong that our team actually had to show the film twice: once for each of the warring tribes, on separate days.

The night Poko saw the film, she says, "I realized it's because of my sin that Jesus came to die. ... So that night I accepted Jesus Christ. When I went home, I told my parents the Good News, and we repented."

Poko brought God's Word home, and her father, a man who had trusted idols and power, surrendered his life to Jesus. In a powerful act of repentance, he burned his idols and made a decision no one expected: he gave up his claim to rule so that peace could return to the village.

The two rival leaders chose reconciliation over rivalry. Division gave way to unity. Hatred was replaced with forgiveness.

That was eight years ago. Today, Poko is a vibrant 21-year-old young woman who is still strong in her faith and unwavering in hope!

"Since the day I watched The GodMan film, I became a Christian, and I continue to go to church," she says. "God's Word has changed my life and my village."

Poko is active in her church, shares her faith, and is studying to become a midwife. Her family — and many members of the community — are also still walking with God, transformed by the power of His Word!

In fact, the two tribes that were once rivals now lead evangelistic crusades together!

Through a Kingdom collaboration of ministry and marketplace leaders, including OneHope and partners in the Close the Bible Gap alliance, Poko's family recently received something they had never had before: a Bible in their own heart language.

"Before, my parents did not have the Bible in our local language, Ewe," Poko says. "But now they do. I am excited to read the Bible in my language because I think I will understand it better."

Poko's story is more than one changed life. It is a living picture of what happens when you send God's Word to the children and youth of the world. This is how one encounter can transform an entire community and become a generational legacy.

And it is exactly what unwavering hope looks like. Because when a child meets Jesus, hope doesn't fade — it multiplies.

Empowering the Local Church

Through OneHope, you equip local churches worldwide to reach and biblically disciple the next generation.

From Loss to Living Hope

Eric didn't even remember his father. In Tuxtepec, Oaxaca, Mexico, Eric's father was known as an honest man who repaired motorcycles in a small shop he ran with Eric's uncle. One day, during a surge of violence in the region, two armed men stormed into the shop and opened fire. Eric's father and uncle were killed in the crossfire.

Eric was growing up angry, rebellious, and with bitterness that could have easily pulled him toward the same violence that had already stolen so much from his family.

His story could have ended there.

But it didn't — through your partnership, and our collaboration with the Christian Broadcasting Network (CBN), a local church came alongside him.

Eric's church school was equipped with our Superbook Book of Hope.

For the first time, Eric didn't just hear about Jesus; he encountered Him. He met a God who was strong in suffering and present in loss.

Touched by the truth of God's Word, Eric surrendered his life to Jesus, let go of his bitterness, and was soon sharing his faith with his family.

The day Eric was baptized was the first day his mother had been to a church since his father's funeral. She realized she had been angry with God, but that day she chose to embrace Jesus as Savior.

Today, Eric, his mom, and his sister are all following Jesus and worshipping in their local church.

Thanks to you, God's Word is transforming children's lives and empowering His people around the world to pass on unwavering hope.

"Superbook continues to transform hearts and minds, proving that the stories of the Bible are as relevant today as they were thousands of years ago. OneHope has mobilized efforts across ministries to use Superbook as an evangelistic agent, even to the most remote areas of the world."

The Gospel in New Frontiers

Because of you, 91,830,559 children and youth engaged with God's Word in the world's hardest-to-reach places, including the 10/40 Window, which spans North Africa, the Middle East, and Asia, where the Gospel is least accessible.

Stories We Can't Tell

Because of your generosity, children and youth in unreached and isolated communities – where Bibles are scarce, and churches are few – are discovering unwavering hope in Jesus.

Openly sharing stories from the 10/40 Window could endanger local partners facing persecution. Instead, we offer glimpses into their journeys, using changed names and limited details to protect them.

THE COST OF
FOLLOWING JESUS:

Samaira's Story

Samaira and her family were the lucky ones. In their society, they were in the upper echelon. They were followers of the traditional faith, and from the outside, they had influence, education, and honor. But inside their home, things were unraveling.

Samaira had become rebellious and distant. She refused to listen to her parents and abruptly dropped out of college. Her father was battling cancer, and the family felt overwhelmed by conflict and fear.

But then you sent the Book of Hope, and as Samaira encountered Jesus' teachings, she was struck by the truth that disobedience leads to destruction and that real love brings restoration. Gradually, her heart softened, and she accepted Jesus!

Her transformation was undeniable, and soon, her entire family came to faith in Christ. Peace filled their home for the first time!

Yet, choosing to follow Jesus meant being cast out of their community. Family and neighbors turned away from them.

Still, Samaira stands firm. Today, she boldly shares Jesus with friends and relatives, and several have begun following Him.

TO MULTIPLY:

Shuvro's Story

Shuvro grew up knowing what it meant to be different. Born into a Hindu family in a Muslim-majority nation, his family was already marginalized.

When a Christian pastor began visiting their village, that rejection intensified.

The pastor was mocked and harassed by locals, but Shuvro's parents welcomed him and eventually chose to follow Jesus. Shuvro was furious. He saw Jesus as just another god and wanted nothing to do with Christianity. He lashed out by disrupting prayer meetings and mocking believers.

One day, panicked before an important school exam, Shuvro prayed, "Jesus, if You are real, help me." He passed, and for the first time, Shuvro began to believe. Soon after, he gave his life to Christ and was baptized.

His faith came with a cost. His family was cut off from local services. Shops refused them. Their names were removed from flood relief lists. But God was working.

A local pastor invited him to a OneHope Reach Circles training, a Scripture-based discipleship program designed to equip young leaders.

Through Reach Circles, Shuvro learned how to share the Gospel and disciple others. Today, Shuvro leads multiple Reach Circles, discipling over 50 young people and multiplying leaders throughout his community.

Because of your partnership, Shuvro is now bringing the light of God's Word to a generation hungry for truth. "If we can transform our community, then our nation will transform."

ETERNAL LOVE:

Farida's Story

In a predominantly Muslim nation, 13-year-old Farida grew up feeling unseen.

As the eldest child in a family where her father divided his time among three wives, she often felt forgotten. When he was with his other families, he neglected her household, leaving Farida and her mother to struggle alone.

"I experienced rejection and a lack of love and paternal affection," Farida shared. "I felt neglected by my father."

Over time, this absence took a toll. Unsure why she had been born into such a family, Farida came to a painful conclusion.

"This situation led me to believe that no one loved me," she recalled.

Then, something unexpected entered her life: Unstoppable, a special-edition Book of Hope you helped place in her hands. Created in partnership with Joyce Meyer Ministries, this Scripture-based book introduces teen girls to who God is and who they are in Him.

At first, Farida didn't believe what she read. But she kept reading.

"Over time," she said, "I came to understand that God loves me."

That realization changed everything. She began secretly attending church (as a devout Muslim, her father would oppose this). She soon decided to give her life to Jesus.

Today, Farida is thriving. She boldly shares the hope she has found with others.

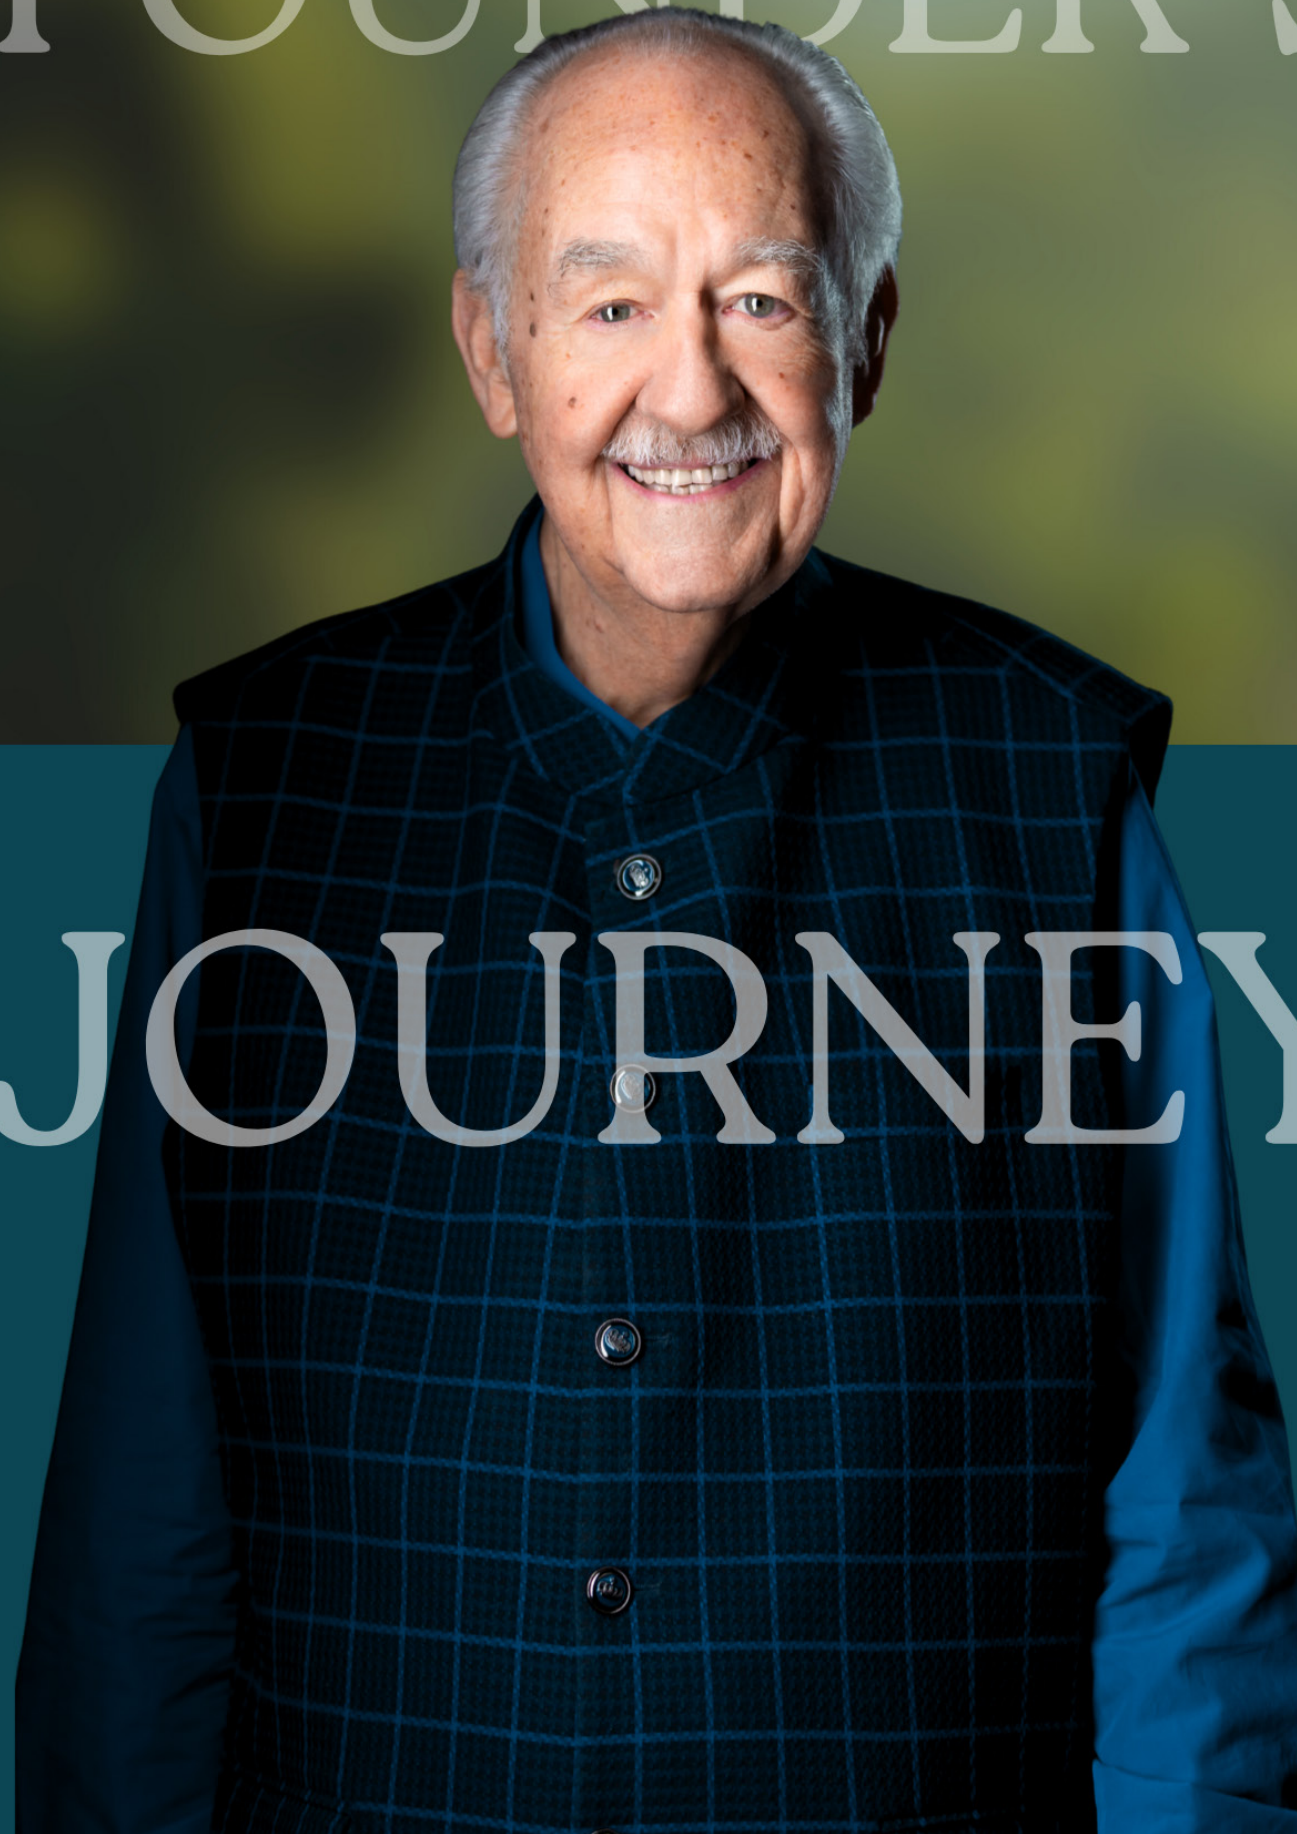

"The Bible is worthy of trust," Farida says. "It is God's Word to guide us, just as it guided me when I thought no one loved me. But I can tell you that God loves you, because He changed my life."

Because you gave, Farida discovered true love in Jesus through His Word – and her story is still being written.

FOUNDER'S

JOURNEY

The Vision Is Unfolding and Inevitable

Dear Friend,

By the time you read this, I may have crossed over the Jordan into joy forevermore at the right hand of our heavenly Father.

Whether at this moment I am “present in the body” or “present with the Lord,” as the Apostle Paul would say, I want to share a word with you.

Over the years, people have asked me what I believe about the future. I often answer: I’ve seen the future, and it’s glorious. Not because of human progress or strategy, but because God keeps His promises. What He has begun, He will finish.

When God decides to move, when He decides to reveal His Son to generations, nothing can stop it. Empires rise and fall. Systems shake. Cultures change. But the Word of God endures forever.

And here’s the mystery that still humbles me after more than 80 years of ministry: God chooses to do His work through people. Through ordinary men and women who make themselves available. Through hands and feet that are willing to go. Through partners who understand that generosity is not an obligation, but a calling.

My dear friend, the future God has prepared will not happen apart from the body of Christ. It never has. From the earliest days of the Church to this very moment, God has always worked through a community of believers who said, “We will carry this together.”

This is who you are! Thank you for being willing to be used by God in this extraordinary hour.

Bob Hoskins

A Calling Begins

In 1943, “Little Bobby” began preaching as a child evangelist at just 7 years old.

From the beginning, his message was clear: the Gospel must be proclaimed to the world.

Courage in Hard Places

By the 1960s and ‘70s, Bob was ministering across the Middle East and North Africa — helping plant churches, distribute Scripture, and strengthen believers in volatile regions.

These years forged a defining conviction: the Gospel belongs everywhere, especially in the hardest-to-reach places.

OneHope Is Founded

In 1986, God gave Bob a vision revealing the spiritual need of children and youth worldwide and a mandate to reach them with His Word.

In 1987, the first distribution of the Book of Hope took place in El Salvador, placing Scripture into the hands of 968,000 children.

OneHope was founded with a singular commitment: God’s Word. Every Child.

Across Borders

What began in one nation quickly crossed continents.

Throughout the 1990s, OneHope expanded into the former Soviet Union, Africa, Asia, and beyond through partnerships with churches, ministries, and leaders.

By the end of its first decade, the ministry was reaching millions annually.

Digital Breakthrough

In 2013, the launch of the Bible App for Kids, created in partnership with YouVersion, marked a new era.

Within its first week, the app surpassed 1 million downloads.

As digital access accelerated in 2020 and beyond, Scripture engagement expanded globally through innovative digital programs.

A Historic Milestone

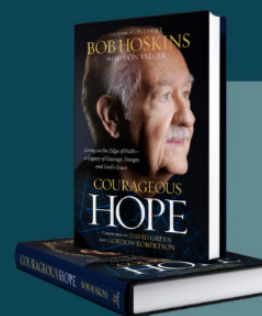

In 2023, OneHope reached its 2 billionth child with God’s Word in El Salvador, where it all began in 1987.

That same year also marked 80 years of ministry for our founder, Bob; eight decades devoted to advancing the Gospel!

The Vision Continues

Vision 2033 accelerates the mission to reach 2 billion more children and youth with God’s Word, equip churches worldwide to biblically disciple 20 million young people, and develop 100,000 Christian leaders.

What began as one man’s obedience has become a global movement to reach every child, in every generation, with Jesus through His Word.

Research & Innovation:

Impact

Research is how we listen. Innovation is how we respond.

Research helps us understand today's generation, while innovation ensures we meet their needs with programs that are relevant and transformative.

Gleam of Hope

OneHope has surveyed young people ages 11–19 across the world and found that loneliness is common, with 31% to 67% reporting feeling lonely in the past three months, depending on the country.

A team from a restricted-access nation saw the need for a digital space where young people could share their struggles. With your support, Gleam of Hope was created, a quiz-based program that meets seekers where they are, connects them with an online missionary, and leads them to their deepest need: a personal relationship with Jesus. Gleam of Hope launched in seven countries in 2025.

Fun Fact: The user experience for this program was developed by a OneHope intern!

Hope in Her Inbox

Seventeen-year-old Ami watched her world unravel in a matter of months. During political unrest in her nation within Asia Pacific, a close friend was shot and killed. Soon after, her father died of cancer, and the aunt who had always stood by her was buried under rubble. With her, Ami felt her hope was buried too.

At school, conflict only deepened her despair. After months of tension with teachers and administrators, she was denied the certificate she had worked so hard to earn. “Everything was collapsing around me,” she said.

That’s when she found Gleam of Hope and discovered she wasn’t alone. Through this new digital program your support made possible,

Ami began reading Scripture and messaging an online missionary. For the first time, she felt safe enough to pour out her pain and struggles.

“I think I was really longing to be heard and to find healing,” she wrote.

What began as a simple cry for help turned into something more: comfort through God’s Word, strength through Gospel songs, and a new desire for life.

Today, Ami is preparing for her GED and praying that God’s name will be glorified through every step of her journey of healing.

Thank you for stepping into her digital world to share the Good News with her!

Multiplying Impact Through Collaboration

We cannot fulfill this mission alone. Through partnerships with like-minded ministries, networks, and movements, your impact multiplies and advances unwavering hope worldwide.

Together, We Go Farther

At OneHope, collaboration is rooted in how we understand God's Word.

Jesus calls us to love God and love people (Matthew 22:37–39). He sends us to make disciples of all nations (Matthew 28:18–20). And in His prayer, He asks that we would be one (John 17:20–23). The mission of God has always moved forward through unity.

From the beginning, partnership has been central to how we serve the global Church. We believe the mission belongs to God and is carried out through His people. That conviction shapes how we build relationships marked by trust, generosity, shared purpose, and measurable outcomes.

No single organization can reach the next generation on its own. That is why we intentionally align with churches, ministries, networks, and movements worldwide by stewarding our resources, expertise, and influence to strengthen others and contribute to a greater collective impact.

In this role, OneHope serves as both a catalyst and a connector by building strategic partnerships, supporting networks, and fostering collaboration across regions and sectors. This requires listening, discerning together, and creating solutions that respond to real needs. Like a body joined and held together, every part matters. When we work together, the impact grows.

Together, we are advancing the Great Commission and strengthening a unified Church. Because when the body of Christ works as one, the Gospel goes farther.

In Partnership With

and so many more

“OneHope has been at the forefront of what many are only now beginning to recognize – that the future of mission is deeply collaborative. Their ability to convene partners, align around shared goals, and execute at scale represents a model of missional effectiveness the global Church needs today.”

How God Gave Kent His Word

When Lauren and her husband, Gabriel, welcomed their son, Kent, they quickly realized something was different. Kent was nonverbal — no first words, never even calling her “Mom.” Then came the diagnosis: autism. They pursued therapy, holding onto hope.

Then tragedy struck. Gabriel began having seizures and passed away, leaving Lauren alone with two young children. Grief and fear overwhelmed her.

One day, she downloaded the Bible App for Kids, and something unforgettable happened. As Kent played on the app, Lauren heard him reciting the story of Daniel, one of the first clear times she had heard his voice.

“I was filled with hope because I didn’t know at the time if my baby would ever speak,” she says.

Kent began using phrases from the Bible stories to communicate in everyday life.

Today, Kent is in ninth grade, excels in school, plays three instruments, and loves God’s Word. One summer, he even read the entire New Testament.

“I would definitely say that the Bible App for Kids helped me find my voice,” Kent says.

How a Bible App Transformed a Family

Joshua is 9 years old and blind. At school, frustration often overwhelmed him, and his teachers struggled to know how to help. He felt discouraged and left out.

But when he arrived at Vacation Bible School in Oaxaca, Mexico, he encountered Scripture in a way he never had before.

Through the Bible App for Kids, Joshua could hear God’s Word come alive. He asked for story after story. Joshua went home overflowing with joy, and the next day his father came back to VBS with him. Moved by the radical change he was seeing in his son, he gave his life to Christ.

Today, their entire family is actively involved in their local church, sharing the app with others. Because of your generosity, this partnership turned digital access into real hope, real faith, and real transformation.

Kids Bible Experience Five-Year Anniversary

When the pandemic pushed the next generation online, you helped meet them there through the Kids Bible Experience. Five years later, the impact continues to grow, with more than 16 million users engaging with God's Word.

In 2020, as screens became the primary space where young people lived and connected, a critical need emerged. Preteens were aging out of the Bible App for Kids, but there was no next step to help them build a daily habit of engaging with Scripture.

Research confirmed it. Guiding Children, a OneHope study conducted with Barna, revealed that Scripture engagement often declines during these formative years.

Instead of watching that trend continue, something new was built.

Through your support, OneHope partnered with YouVersion and more than 100 churches and creators worldwide to develop Kids Bible Experience, a daily, interactive Scripture journey for children ages 8-12.

From the beginning, it was not just built for the Church, but with it.

For over 18 years, Beth Cunningham has served as children's pastor at Church of the Highlands. She was there when the idea for Kids Bible Experience first emerged.

"I'll never forget where I was when Rob called," Beth says. "He asked, 'Do you think this is a good idea, and can you help gather children's pastors to dream into it?'"

Her answer was yes.

That yes led to a roundtable of church leaders who helped shape what the Kids Bible Experience would become. "OneHope actually listens to the church," Beth explains. "They value the voice of the practitioner and the parent."

Then the pandemic accelerated everything. "It felt like a mandate from the Lord," Beth recalls.

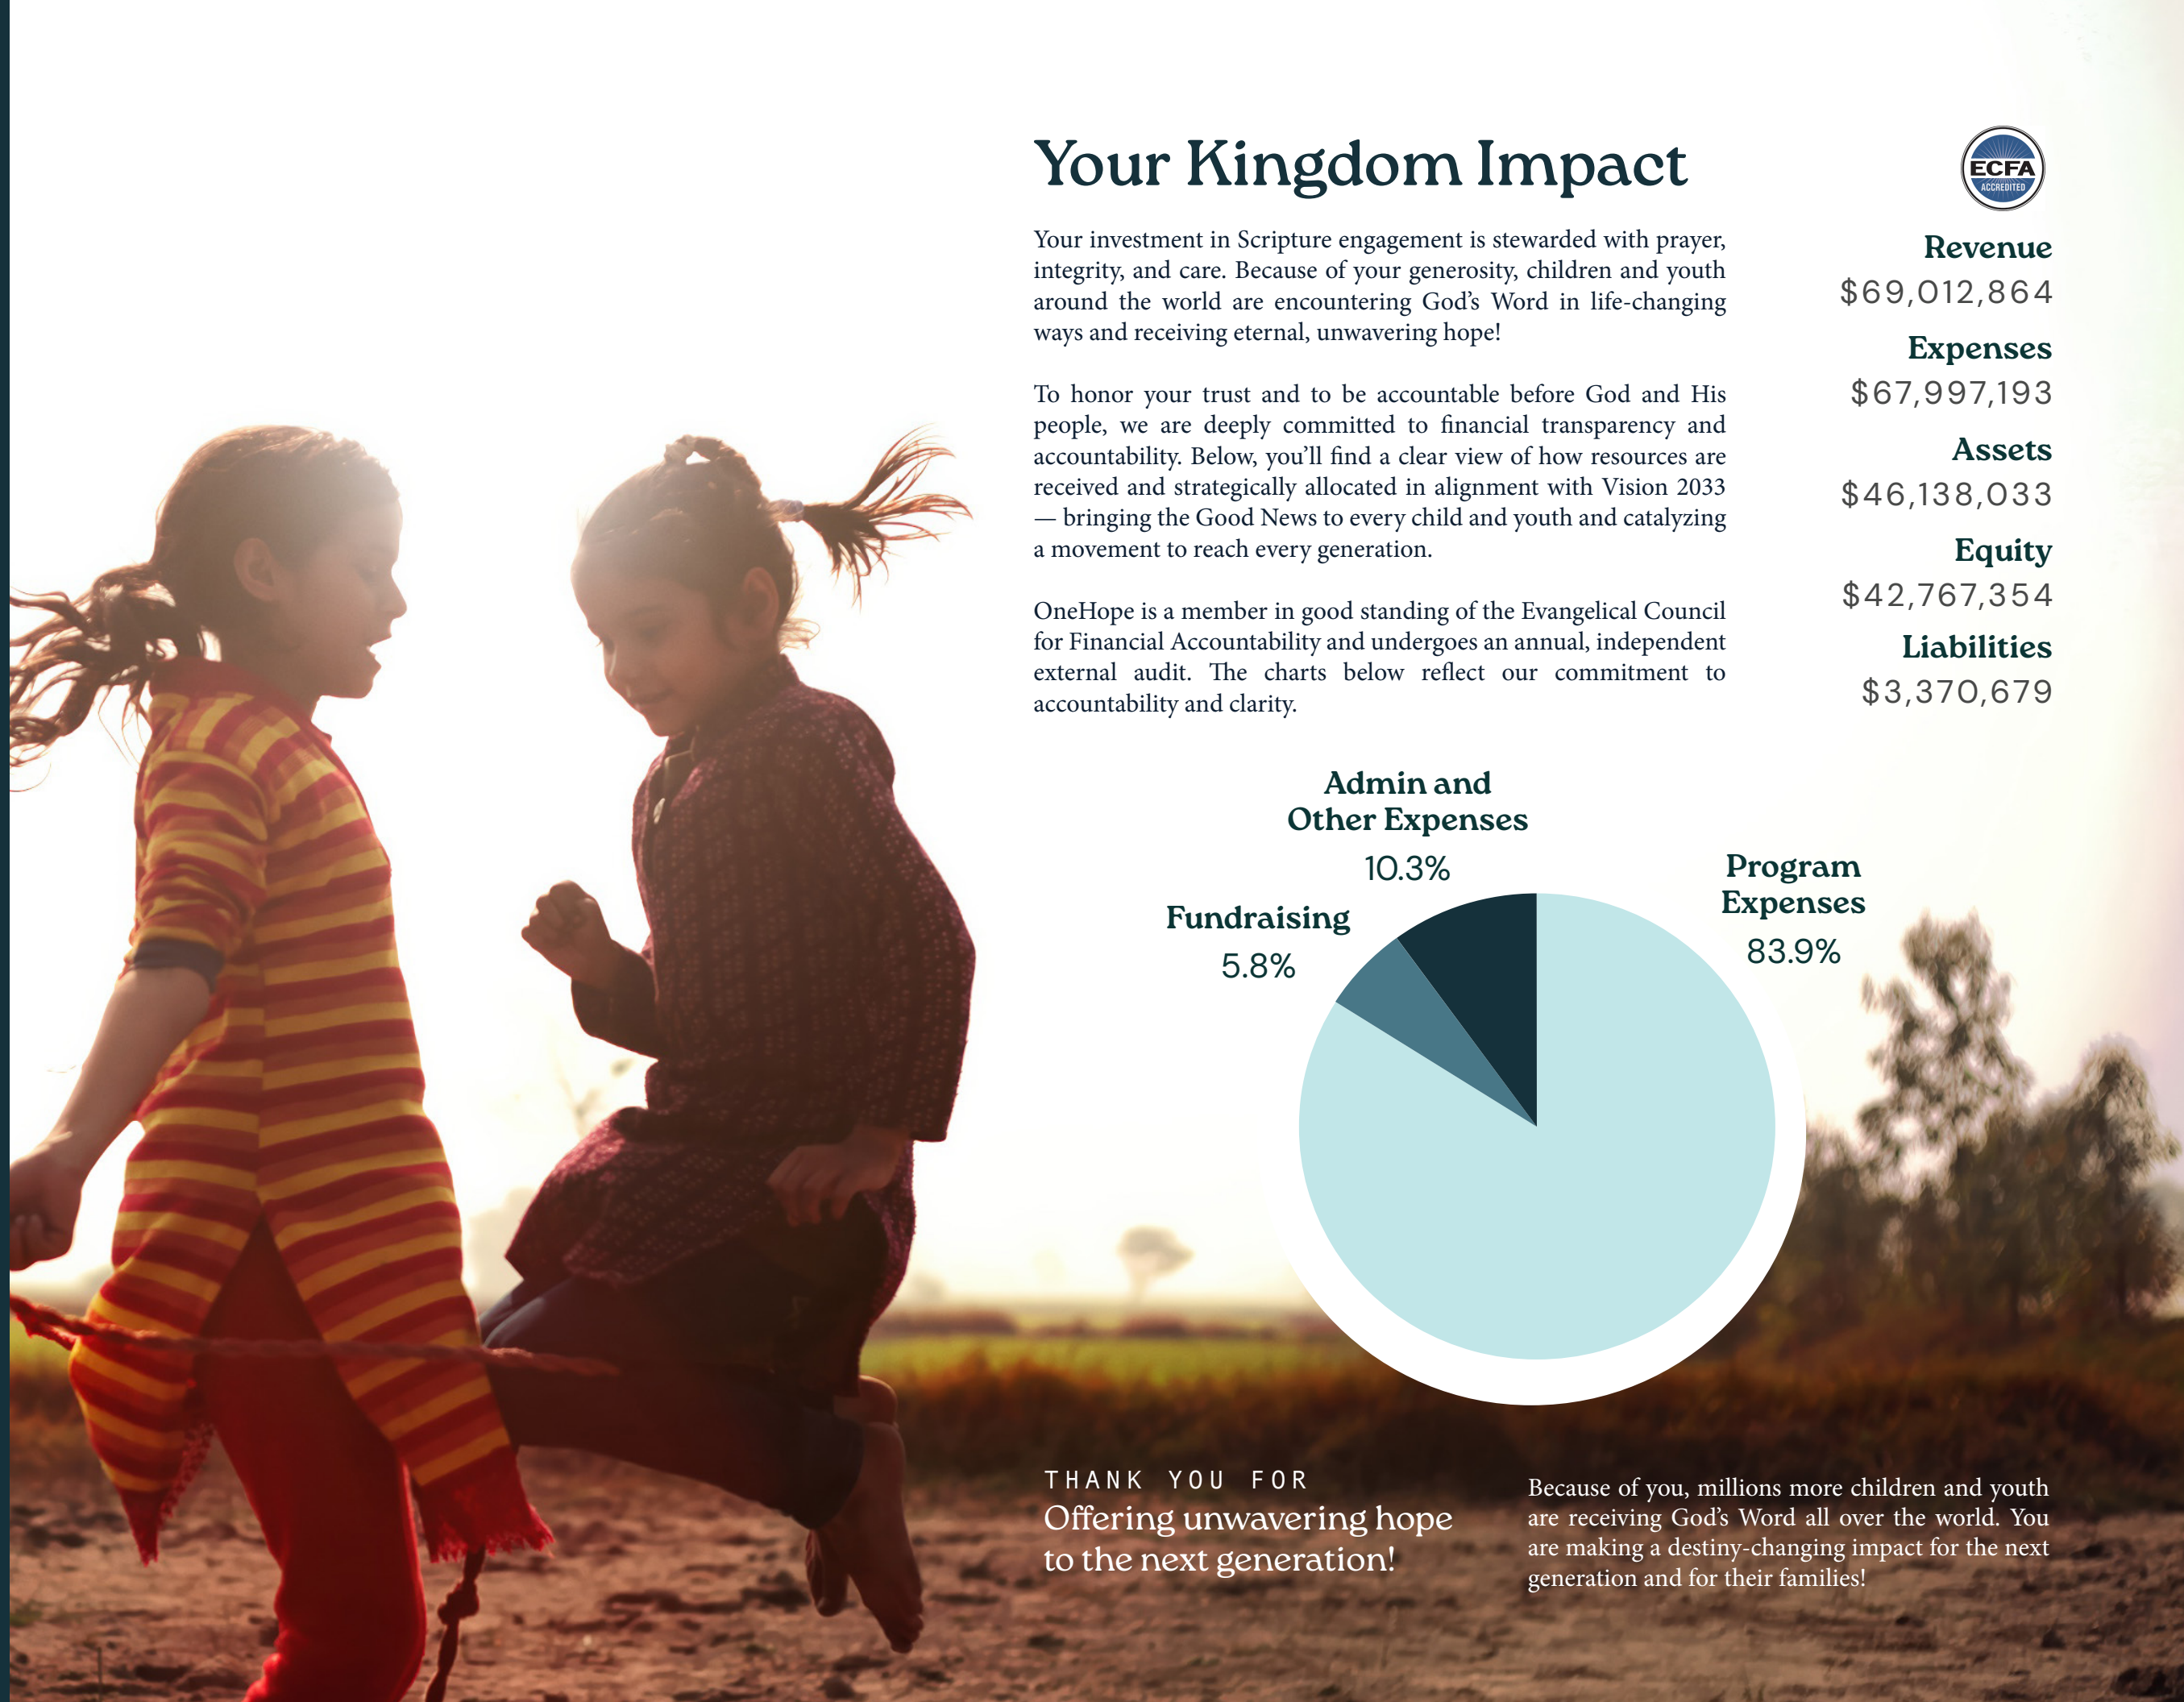

Five years later, more than 16 million users are engaging with God's Word through the Kids Bible Experience through devotionals, videos, and interactive content inside the YouVersion Bible App.

Now serving as OneHope's Geographical Vice President for North America, Beth sees the fruit firsthand. "When we make something, it goes way beyond just here. It lives on around the world."

When the Church leads, and we build together, unwavering hope multiplies.

The Work Continues

LET'S IMPART UNWAVERING HOPE TO THE WORLD

Research suggests that less than 3% of global missions giving is directed toward reaching people who have never heard the message of Jesus.

Meanwhile, nearly one-third of the world — including more than a billion children and youth — has little or no access to God's Word.

For those who take seriously Jesus' call to "go into all the world," this is a critical moment. The next generation growing up in the world's most isolated and restricted places must have the opportunity to encounter the hope of the Gospel, many for the very first time. This is a major focus of OneHope outreach in the days ahead.

Vision 2033 is the blueprint for reaching the next 2 billion young people with God's Word, so that every child and youth can engage with the Good News in a meaningful and accessible way.
